1.3.229
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant Theodore Cottingham, November 1, 2005. 8am. At office.
www.unc.bz

1. This is the day, this is the hour, I have brought you into the world for, for to know Me is to love Me, for I am love, I am power, I am grace and glory, and I have given all things unto your feet, your hands, the power of My creation, and now, now, now all will know and understand that which has been hidden, hidden not on purpose of My heart, but those which had/have My heart but choose not in full. I love you. So much cataclysmic change. So many orthodox mesmerized by what all is not like their constituency thinks. So much is different than most hold of every religion and scientific community. I love you.

2. For such a time as this you were born. I sought for a man, a woman, to make up the gap, and I found your willingness. I found your fortitude. I found your tenacity. I found your ability to learn from Me and not just other men, women, of good intent, but limited in what they have allowed themselves to learn, limiting themselves to the learning of others, when all the time, I am there, I am there, I am them if they only knew.

3. I have another way to live, My voice. I have another realm to live in, Mine, which I've given to My creation. I have another means of commerce and exchange and the world you live in is not limiting you, you are limiting you. I have placed before you an open door, the door is Jesus, and I am I Am. You are I Am for I made you equal yet you, you, you, so many of you, see and worship the door for which I am grateful you see and worship, yet there is more, and I am the More. I am more and I am more and you are more and do you look like you think you look? Do you think science reigns supreme in the universe of I Am? Do you think you reign supreme in your universe? Do you want to limit yourself to your universe, or do you want to play, romp, explore, do our Fathers work in His? Answer Me. Please.

4. I am meek and I force Myself on no one. I am meek and I force Myself on no one. Everyone has the choice and they continually have the choice and I gave them the choice and I give it freely. Who will you serve/be this day? Who will you become?

5. Think it not strange the empiricism that comes forth from My throne/hand into yours. I love you.

6. Seest thou Me as I am? Do you still love Me, those of you who think I look like you?

Will you, have you, do you cast Me in your image? Or would you like to know your image? Would you like to limit Me to your power, or would you like to know and operate in Mine? Why do you listen/abide by the dictates/mandates of man? Of your universe-thought, when I have/speak so much that will enable/empower/release/free you to operate in Mine? I love you.

7. What will you that I do for/with you this day, simple healings, miracles, that which says to you there is more at work than here meets the eye? Or would you like to be a part of the kingdom of heaven and operate seamlessly in the kingdom of heaven here on the earth and operating in the kingdom of heaven in the heavenlies and do all that I have for you to do/live in/operate in? The choice is yours.

8. What is your ability to entrepreneur with the Most High? Who will come into Me for entrepreneurship and let the entrepreneurship of the world-thought become subservient to the entrepreneurship of the king of kings?

9. Why will you limit Me? Do I not speak, do I not share, do I not come to you in the night? Do I not come to you in the day? Who are you when you look in the mirror? Do you not see My image/DNA? Shall you try, are you willing?

10. Who wears My collar and says you aren't Me?
Who will/do you listen to this day?
What will you that I have to do with/for/in you this day?
Will you write my funny words, strange sentences, unusual concatenations of phrases and statements that simply allow Me to be Me in and through you, to others, them choosing how and if and when they drink of what I give you?

11. Come now, let us reason together, you and Me; Most High and My creation, of which I made to reflect Me and enjoy Me and honor Me and Me them. What shall I say, what shall you say, what would you like to know? What are you willing to do/give for Me to be Me completely in you/through you without reserve? Time? Time? For I do not charge money. What are you willing to give Me? Your beliefs, your belief system, your limits, your boundaries? Oh, will you give Me your judgments against others, will you please? What will you give Me so that I can give you what you give Me, river'd with pure truth back to you?

12. What are you willing to do/become/write/speak/publish/proclaim before men and others? Who will you let teach you what? And why?
Will you listen to Me, write My words, share them with My penman?
What will you that I do for/with you this day, this hour, which so cataclysmic is? If you only knew what I will do for you. I will take you and fling you over throughout My big world and exchange minds and bodies and operate transcendently past throughout time future'd and all understood and exploring each other for eons past eons. I love you.

13. Will/do you choose life or death? Do you know what either of them is? Come now, again, do/will you impose your definition of each onto Me? Or would you like My definitions clarified to you?

14. What are you willing to listen to? Who are you willing to listen to? And why, for heaven's sake, for your sake, for your posterity's sake, do you limit Me? Why do you let others impose onto you their belief systems when I, I, I will give you Mine. Bowing before you I say/state/declare/proclaim I will give you Mine, if you receive it/Me. I love you.

15. Why do you limit Me? There are no boundaries on/in Me. I am love. I am not cantankerous. I am not menial. I am not demeaning. I am not forcing Myself/My kingdom on you, I give you choice. Cataclysmic is.

16. Oh what shall the potter say to the clay this day? Love Me, and let Me give you My kingdom, let Me give you My grace, let Me heal you into becoming not a healer but becoming all that I am; and heal, grace, and flow through others in the grace and glory that I intended, the way that I intended, that glorifies My/our Father which is in all of us. Amen. There, stated. Amen. I declare, decree, above the heavens and below the earth, I am one. You are one. We are one. Hear see and accelerate your maturity in Me this day I plead. Thank you. Amen.